Color Splash

Color Splash is a vivid pop of color. These glass tiles get their color from ink jet printing technology. The color pattern is applied to the back side of the glass tile. The tile surface has a three-dimensional grooved texture, distorting the detail and creating an alluring look. The polished finish plays with light and reflection. The color pattern per tile repeats, however once you put multiple tiles together, you will see four different patterns in the finished install. Such a fun design for a commercial or residential wall.
